INSTALLATION SERVICES CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Impressive and inspiring services were held in the Congregational church on Tuesday, the occasion being the formal installation as pastor of the Rev. W. J. Thompson, who was called by and has officiated for the church since December. The importance of the event to the church and conference attracted the most prominent ministers of the denomination in Southern California as well as a large and interested audience.

First in the order of business was the constitution of the Council for examination of the record of the calling of Mr. Thompson and his acceptance, hearing his own statement, as well as consideration of his record and general fitness for the pastorate. This council consisted of the following: Rev. Carl S. Patton, Rev. George F. Kennigott, Rev. George A. Andrews and Rev. James H. Lash of Los Angeles, Rev. James M. Campbell of Manhattan Beach, Rev. William H. Stubbs and Rev. Robert M. Webster of Pasadena, together with lay delegates. The council met in the afternoon, approved the proceedings to that point, and expressed individually and collectively their satisfaction with the result of the examination of the candidate.

Following the council session the visitors, together with officers of the church and their wives, sat down to a delicious chicken dinner, served in the church parlors. Under the spell of good fellowship thus engendered the greetings of the community were felicitously extended by the Rev. Dean Shaw of the Church of the Ascension, while the greetings of the Congregational conference were expressed by Rev. George F. Kennigott, superintendent.

As chairman of the council, Rev. James H. Lash of the Hollywood Congregational church presided at the evening service and offered the installing prayer, after an impressive scripture reading by Rev. Robert M. Webster. The charge to the pastor was delivered by Dr. James M. Campbell, who expressed his particular interest by reason of having given eight of his best years to the service of this church. Dr. Campbell's address was made deeply impressive by reason of his own long experience as pastor and author, and an intimate knowledge of the needs of the local church.

On behalf of the Southern California conference Dr. Kennigott extended the right hand of fellowship as a token of the interest and cooperation of the other churches in the work of the local organization.

Rev. Andrews delivered the charge to the people, saying as he began that he wished he could have his own people present to listen to his ideas of the people's part in the church relationship. They were well worth listening to, expressed with many flashes of kindly wit, dwelling upon the need for lay support, moral as well as financial, with a mutual spirit of charity, patience and helpfulness.

Dr. Patton of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles and one of the foremost preachers of the denomination in this country, preached an inspiring installation sermon. He dwelt upon the rewards as well as the demands of the ministry, and his remarks were well calculated to make a lasting impression both on the newly installed pastor and his people.

Delightful solos by Miss Gertrude Cook and Mrs. D. C. Ashmore added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Rev. Thompson comes to the local church with a record distinguished in many respects. In his youth he spent a couple of years touring Great Britain and Scotland as a boy preacher, his evangelistic work meeting with marked success. Later he completed his schooling and theological training and came to America where he had successful pastorates in various eastern states. To seek the milder climate of Southern California he resigned under protest the pastorate of a large church at Brantford, Ont., where he had worked most successfully for several years.

As an author, particularly of children's stories, Mr. Thompson's name is familiar in the religious press. His work has brought him into association and close friendship with many prominent men, not only in the religious world but in many walks of life.

Rev. Thompson's address to the council will appear in next week's News.

INFLUENCE OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The News is proud of the Woman's club as a Sierra Madre institution and of each member who lends her influence, patronage, sympathy and labor to an organization which more than any other public influence directs its efforts toward the higher and better things of life.

This article is inspired by an item in the Woman's club column on the last page, stating that the membership has increased nearly 100 per cent during the last year, and we wish to congratulate the club and its officers on the splendid showing revealed by these figures.

The News feels a pardonable pride in being a humble instrument in promoting the welfare and success of the club through the column so ably edited by Mrs. Palmer Rhodes. While other organizations and individuals are proposing good things for Sierra Madre, the Woman's club are DOING them, and the results are manifest in a closer, more harmonious community feeling than Sierra Madre has ever enjoyed.

MONEY FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Three weeks ago The News mentioned the need of additional room for the accommodation of Grammar School pupils and teachers and suggested a school bond issue as a means of raising money to build the extra rooms.

Having no knowledge of the contemplated expense, but in order to start someone figuring, we now suggest that if the building expense will not exceed $3,300.00 the money may be obtained by a tax levy of 15 cents on each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, thus avoiding the expense of a bond election. If, however, a larger amount is required, a bond election, it seems, will be necessary.

Sierra Madre is growing very rapidly and we think there will be no opposition to the expense necessary to properly provide the educational advantages of other communities, the only question is the best and cheapest manner in which to obtain the money.

There are a lot of people here who know a lot more about this matter than the writer and we would like to publish their views. The columns of The News are always open to all sides of every public question.

AMERICAN JEWISH RELIEF

Mrs. D. Taylor has been appointed local chairman of the American Jewish Relief Committee and will open her office at 41 N. Baldwin Ave., where she will receive contributions for the relief of Jewish sufferers in the far east, each afternoon of next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 29, 30 and 31.

This is the first time that money has been asked for these people and everyone knows their needs are pressing. Let your contributions be generous.

If inconvenient to call in person, checks may be mailed to Mrs. Taylor, made payable to Jewish Relief Committee.

ANOTHER TITLE

A. M. Udell, who already successfully and efficiently serves the people as city marshal, city fire warden, city street commissioner, city license collector, has had another title added to his collection, although we don't know its official name. Anyway, he is chief engineer and machinician in charge of operation of the new flock of road working machines that rolled in last week. There are several duties Mr. Udell performs not the least of which is neighborhood peacemaker, operator of the chemical gas plant for the asphyxiation of undesirable dogs and cats, pound master and ordinance interpreter—and if there are other duties of a public or civic nature that we have overlooked—he's them, too.

Before becoming the best right man in the right place in Sierra Madre Mr. Udell was an experienced and expert road builder and will shortly annex still another title—master of construction—when real work is commenced on resurfacing our streets, on which occasion the audience will be asked to stand and sing "All Hail, the Chief."

CITY PRINTING SHOULD BE DONE IN SIERRA MADRE

To the Editor of The News:

Your article in last week's issue of The News, concerning City printing, is a subject that interests the entire community.

A city without a newspaper doesn't count for much and every newspaper proprietor expects and should receive every encouragement from the citizens to make his paper a success, which in reality also spells success for the city.

At most, country newspapers have but a limited field from which they can secure subscriptions and advertising and most of them are compelled to put in a job printing plant at considerable expense in order to maintain publication of their newspapers.

The News is equipped in that respect to meet the requirements of this community and the printing of our municipal departments should be done here. The taxpayers' money should be spent here instead of going somewhere else.

Concerning that part of your article pertaining to the City Clerk and printing emanating through his office, I will state that if elected, I will have the City's printing done at home.

The News has been a consistent booster for Sierra Madre and deserves every possible support.

LOUIS DIETZ.

BUILDING IN SIERRA MADRE

While Los Angeles or even Long Beach may have erected more new buildings during the last six months than has Sierra Madre, still the sound of hammer and saw has been a constant reminder that the building boom has not jumped clear over us.

On account of advanced prices for building material everybody in the United States, apparently, decided to wait until prices came down and as a consequence building slumped to way below normal and was only resumed when people began to "camp out" and sleep in garages. As a matter of fact the demand for houses is yet greater than the supply.

An idea of the increased amount of building in Sierra Madre may be obtained from the statement of Mr. Brooks, manager of the local lumber yard, that twice as much lumber had been sold here during the last month as during any like period for four years.

EASTER FLOWERS FOR SICK

Please bring or send flowers to 41 N. Baldwin a week from tomorrow, Saturday, April 3, as early in the forenoon as possible, where they will be "made up" and distributed to the sick ones in the afternoon.

It may seem to you like a little thing to do, but it will bring cheer and happiness to ones who need it most.

The flowers will be received and distributed by City Nurse Kate Brewington, who would like to have a volunteer automobile and driver in the afternoon of that day for the distribution.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PICNIC

A charming affair was given on St. Patrick's Day by Dr. Anna Small, assisted by Mrs. H. R. Fullerton, Mrs. E. A. Aschermann and Miss Jackson, at Arbavilla, as a farewell to a number of Canadian friends who have been spending the winter here and who will leave soon for their homes.

Following an elaborate barbecue dinner, was the flag raising. Draping the flag around little David Aschermann, the children and a number of the other guests, assended to the observation roof and as Mr. E. A. Aschermann raised the flag, the children's voices rose in singing "America" followed by the "Star Spangled Banner." The party then crossed to the Aschermann home where the children entertained with recitations, followed by out door games, both American and Canadian and later a delightful supper was served.

Guests included: Mrs. G. W. Dean of Vancouver, B. C., Mrs. H. R. Fullerton and daughters Norma and Hattie, Mrs. F. A. H. Fysh of San Gabriel, Mr. W. M. Graham of Cleveland, Ohio, Dr. T. M. Tritlett of Lincoln, Nebraska, Mrs. Marcia Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Aschermann and sons Teddy and David, Dr. Anna Small and Miss Jackson.

THE MOST PROMINENT BUSINESS INVESTMENT EXPERT IN THE UNITED STATES IS ROGER W. BABSON, OF BOSTON. WRITING TO TEN THOUSAND BUSINESS LEADERS HE GIVES THIS ADVICE:

"For our own sakes, for our children's sakes, for the nation's sake, let us business men get behind the churches and their preachers."

"DANDERINE" STOPS
HAIR FALLING OUT

Hurry! A few cents will save your hair and double its beauty.

A little "Danderine" cools, cleanses and makes the feverish, itchy scalp soft and pliable; then this stimulating tonic penetrates to the hair roots, revitalizing and invigorating every hair in the head, thus stopping the hair falling out, getting thin, scraggly or fading.

After a few applications of "Danderine" you seldom find a fallen hair or a particle of dandruff, besides every hair shows more life, vigor, brightness, color and thickness.

A few cents buys a bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter.—Adv.

Professional Loss.

His friend noticed that the dentist was looking blue and inquired, "What's the matter Joe?"

"Why, I've had an ulcerated tooth and yesterday it got so bad I had to pull it myself."

"Did you get relief?"

"Oh, yes."

"Then why this grouchy?"

"Why this grouchy? Because, you idiot, I once got $400 for treating a tooth like that."—Boston Transcript.

CONVENIENT!

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets."

Cascarets never gripe, sicken or inconvenience one like Salts, Oil, Calomel or harsh Pills. Feel better! Be efficient! Don't stay sick, bilious, headachy, constipated. Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your breath bad and stomach sour. Why not spend a few cents for a box of Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest laxative-cathartic you ever experienced? They work while you sleep. Adv.

No Life Saver.

"I asked the boss for a raise today; told him I couldn't live on my present salary."

"Fine, and what did he say?"

"That he didn't think a man in his position should be considered merely as a life saver."—Lexington Leader.

NAME "BAYER" IS ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

Take tablets without fear, if you see the safety "Bayer Cross."

If you want the true, world-famous Aspirin, as prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years, you must ask for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin."

The "Bayer Cross" is stamped on each tablet and appears on each package for your protection against imitations.

In each package of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are safe and proper directions for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain in general.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Drugists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturing of Monaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

Things to Be Reckoned With.
"There are no sure things in life," sighed the pessimist.

"Oh yes, there are," argued the philosopher. "How about the expenses you hadn't counted on?"

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

His Position.

"What is your position on this great question?"

"My position," replied Senator Sorghum, "is somewhat like that of a tight-rope walker. I don't want to stop to argue or show off. What I want to do is to get across to solid ground."

Precedent.

"Of course," observed the man with a ponderous intellect, "we must show the deepest respect for precedent."

"Of course," assented the man with a fountain pen. "But that's no excuse for going ahead writing '1919.'"

A City of the Middle Ages

Street Scene in Reval.

IN 1218, the Danish king, Waldemar II, landed his forces on Estonian soil and, after having conquered the region of Wyck (Hapsal), Harien (Reval), and Alutaga (Narva), settled down and founded in 1219 the town now known as Reval.

Reval is one of the few towns which has emerged, with all its beauty, from the Middle Ages, says the Christian Science Monitor. Approaching Reval from the sea, one cannot but admire the gorgeous picture it makes, situated on the rock shore, with its wonderful castle perched on the hill, looking proudly down over past days of sad history, as if despising the sorrow and anxiety which now prevail in that unique town.

Reval in summer, with its clear, blue sky, reminds one somewhat of Naples. Fitting in with the climate is the wonderful complexion of the people, and one is struck by the beauty of the women, and the numbers of happy children.

There is no firmly established opinion as to the derivation of the name Reval. One legend has it that the name Reval is derived from the Danish word "veffel" (reef), as in those days the Island of Karlos, which is two or three yesterdays from the town, was a long rocky peninsula.

Medieval and Modern mingled. The old town is still partly surrounded by a thick wall from which rise many queer, medieval towers, the highest of which is the "Long Hermann." Then there is the "Fat (or thick) Margarita," and the "Kick in de Keck." The latter, overlooking the town, receives its name, according to rumor, because one can peep into all its kitchens from its windows. Splendid boulevards give a modern touch to this town, despite its narrow, old-world, winding streets.

Like Athens, it has seven gates; the Big Strand (or sea) gate; the Small Strand, or Nicholas gate; the Wiru, or Narva gate; the Karja, or Michalloff gate; the Harju, or New gate; the Dom gate, and the Clatern gate (which the Estonians call Nunnaravov, derived from the Nun gate, as a convent was once situated nearby).

The towers and walls are riddled with bullet marks, which date back to the times when the Moscovian czar, Ivan Vassilivitch, besieged the town. The gates are decorated with the coat of arms of the city, dating from the Danish period. Some have three light blue lines on a gold ground, surrounded with red; red and blue feathers ornament the helmet, on which rests a crown. A woman clad in a red garment holds a cross in her hands. A silver cross on a red ground is also sometimes found.

Historical Houses and Castle. Reval, as already mentioned, is one of the few towns in Europe to survive medieval days. For one who loves historical towns, to indulge himself in admiring the wonderful old Danish and Swedish houses which ornament these narrow streets, is a real joy.

The square near the castle and the market place are of peculiar historical interest; those streets known as Broad street and Long street are the principal thoroughfares and contain most of the fashionable shops and residences.

Turning to the magnificent Domberg, with its castle, or Ritterhaus, a new and no less wonderful vista opens before us. The castle was built in the thirteenth century by Waldemar, and was partly rebuilt in 1722. It is surrounded by walls and a beautiful park. Formerly, this quarter was divided into two parts, one belonging to the church, the other to the knights. On the right, the house of the nobility contains many interesting features. Unfortunately the archives, which were kept there, were lost, when, for some unknown reason, those dating from before 1500 were sent by ship to Sweden in 1710. Two out of the three ships were wrecked. The only reliable source from which one could trace the history of Estonia has thus been destroyed.

Some Ancient Churches. The churches of Reval are also of great interest. The Lutheran and Nicolai churches were built in the fourteenth century. The Olaf church was built in 1329, and probably derived its name from the Danish king.

Olaf. Unfortunately, however, this church was partially destroyed in the great fire of 1483. The tower was soon rebuilt to its present height of 429 feet. This is one of the highest churches in Europe, and in the old days formed a landmark for seafarers.

The Estonian Church of the Holy Ghost is one of the oldest in existence. Experts believe it to have been built in the early Gothic period. In addition, there are many other notable buildings, including the town hall and the Schartz Haupter Hans (Black-Headed building); this latter derives its name from its patron saint, the Negro Saint Mauritius, whose black head crowns the building, which belongs to the Association of Bachelor Business Men, originally formed for the maintenance of order and the defense of the town against marauders.

The traveler should not leave Estonia before he has mounted the Laxberg at sunset. From here he will see in the distance the Domberg castle, with its silvery shimmering roofs and towers; the dark silhouette of the Olaf church, with its spire hidden in clouds; and the blue sea forming a background, interrupted by the fine green line of Wolf and Nargan islands, beyond which the fishermen are returning home. Crowned by the red rays of the setting sun, this will remain a never-to-be-forgotten picture.

GAVE CHANCE TO SQUARE UP

Why Many Civil War Officers Welcomed a Skirmish Not Alone for Its Own Sake.

As one who took part in the American Civil war, George Haven Putnam, a member of the publishing firm, recalled many interesting incidents in his "Memories of My Youth." He states that one of the advantages of a retreating campaign was the opportunity it gave to officers to straighten up their obligations for various articles and regimental property for which they were responsible. He writes:

"The wise officer who picks up things upon the way retains these in what might be called a reserve fund. He knows that other articles will disappear later and that it will be a convenience to have something with which to offset his account. On the other hand, if articles disappear without vouchers the commander, who has already had similar experience, makes a practice of carrying them as on hand until his command is involved in anything that could be called a fight. After such fight is over the articles will be duly disposed of in form 41 as 'lost or destroyed in action.'"

"When my regiment landed in Louisiana the quartermaster and the company commanders were alike responsible for quite an accumulation of articles which had been duly utilized for the benefit of the United States, but for which they had no proper vouchers on file. The first fight—a mere swamp skirmish—was, on this ground, hailed with delight. I remember going up to the post commander with a long list of property that had been 'used up' in this very serious combat. The colonel looked at the paper rather quizzically.

"Quartermaster," he said, "I see in this list 17 boxes of hatchet heads. The fight must have been very fierce indeed if the boys were under the necessity of throwing hatchets at the enemy."

"But he certified to the paper, and I was therefore not called upon to make payment for those hatchet heads."

New Optical Glass.

A new German optical glass is designed for colorless spectacles—instead of the usual colored ones—to give protection against ultra-violet rays, such as give trouble in climbing high mountains or working in the light of the mercury-quartz lamp. The glass is due to the discovery that a suitable mixture of rare earths in glass flux absorbs the harmful rays. Such earths as neodymium, erbium, cerium, lanthanum and thorium may be used in varying combinations; and the protective glass shows objects and landscapes in natural colors.

THREE YEARS WITHOUT HOPE

A Story of Sickness and Suffering with Final Return to Health
It will do you good to read it

No matter how long nor how much you have suffered, do not give up hope. Do not decide there is no help for you. There is. Make up your mind to get well. You can. There is a remedy in which you may place full reliance as did Mrs. Rozalia Kania of 39 Silver Street, New Britain, Conn. This is what she says: "I had cramps for three years and thought I would never be any better. I could not eat without distress. Slept with my mouth open and could hardly breathe. No medicine helped me. I had catarrh of the stomach. Now I have no cramps and am feeling well and healthy. I wish every suffering person would take PE-RU-NA."

Catarrh effects the mucous membranes in any organ or part. PE-RU-NA, by regulating the digestion and aiding elimination, sends a rich, pure supply of blood and nourishment to the sick and inflamed membranes and health returns.

For coughs, colds, catarrh and catarrhal conditions generally, PE-RU-NA is recommended. If you are sick, do not wait and suffer. The sooner you begin using Dr. Hartman's well-known PE-RU-NA, the sooner you may expect to be well and strong and in full possession of your health. A bottle of PE-RU-NA is the finest emergency, ready-to-take remedy to have in the house. It is fourteen ounces of prevention and protection.

Sold everywhere in tablet or liquid form.

Where Can I Find Relief From Itching, Terrifying Eczema?*Question on Lips of Afflicted.

There is a harrassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source, which is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., which acts by cleansing the blood. Get a bottle to-day, and you will see results from the right treatment. Medical advice free. Address Medical Director, 48 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

His Reply.

A teacher was explaining the methods used in taking the census, and illustrated by asking the pupils some of the questions asked by the enumerators. She asked little Billie K. this question:

"Billie, what is your father's politics?"

Billie, being only eight years old, was not "up" on politics, so he answered thus:

"I—I don't know, but he is either a Bull Moose or belongs to Oriental lodge."

The More Profitable Way.

"The servant has asked for more money or she's going to quit."

"What are you paying her now?"

"Twelve dollars a week, and I make all the beds and we send the washing out."

"I tell you what to do. Tell her to come on downtown and take my job and I'll stay home and do the housework, and she can pay me."

A Sincere Compliment.

His Wife—What did little Mr. Peck say when you showed him that portrait of his wife?

Peck (the portrait artist)—Not a word. The boob just looked at it in silence.

His Wife—Good! It was so lifelike he didn't dare speak in its presence without permission.—Houston Post.

Try It, Ladies.

Mrs. Upstairs—I understand Mrs. Nextdoor has a new hat. How did she get it?

Mrs. Downstairs—Her husband came home late the other night and she placed her old hat so that he sat on it; consequently he had to buy her a new one."

Why Marry?

Galey—I haven't seen much of Gadsby at the club of late. Wonder what happened to him?

Haley—Bottled in the bond of matrimony.

JACK FROST'S CLEVER TRICKS

Chief Among Them Is Ability to Make Water That Is Frozen an Exception to the Rule.

Jack Frost is a very clever fellow, for not only is he an artist—for everyone has seen the beautiful designs he draws on the window—but he also does some wonderful conjuring tricks.

As you know, he bursts pipes, and this is how he does it, the Montreal Herald states:

First of all, you should remember that "Jack Frost" is merely another name for the extreme winter cold, which is below freezing point.

Nearly every substance in nature expands or stretches when heated and contracts or occupies a smaller space when the temperature falls, but water is an exception to this rule. For, though it expands when heated, it does not contract when frozen; on the contrary, it expands once more.

You can prove this yourselves on a frosty day by this simple experiment: Fill a bottle with water right up to the cork, and leave it out to freeze over-night. In the morning you will find that the cork is right out of the neck of the bottle on a piece of ice. Now, this shows that water expands when frozen, and that is exactly what happens when the water freezes in a pipe. It expands and bursts the pipe, and it is not until the water thaws and gushes out that we know about it.

Three Claimants.

"You may be sharp," said the thread to the needle, "but I notice you are always getting it in the eye."

"Oh, you can't talk," retorted the needle, "for whenever you get into a hole I have to pull you through."

"Be quiet, you two," chirped in the thimble. "If it wasn't for my push, neither of you would get along."—London Tit-Bits.

END OF EIGHT YEARS MISERY

Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Recovered.

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had an organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and limbs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine and tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and your Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking them to advantage. You can use my name for a testimonial."

—Mrs. THREMA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

You are invited to write for free advice. No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Miles Standish Was Manxman. Evidence that Miles Standish was a Manxman and born into the Manx family of Standish of Ellanbane, has been discovered by the secretary of the Isle of Man Antiquarian society. The family of Standish probably came to Man with the Derby family in the fifteenth century. It is stated, for there is a record that they held property in the capital of the island in the year 1511. This was seventy-three years before Miles is supposed to have been born.

YOUR COLD IS EASED AFTER THE FIRST DOSE

"Pape's Gold Compound" then breaks up a cold in a few hours.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all the gripe misery. The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages in the head, stops nose running, relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Clear your congested head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Gold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—Insist upon Pape's!—Adv.

The Difficulty. "Does your boy Josh know anything about how the place ought to be run?" "I'll say he does," answered Farmer Cornatossel. "I'll say he knows all about it. The trouble seems to be that the hired man and I are too dumb to follow out instructions as fast as Josh can give 'em."

PUBLIC ROADS

GRANITE BLOCK FOR PAVING

Material Regarded as Particularly Suitable for Trunk Lines Entering Large Cities.

Study of various paving materials suitable for much-traveled highways has disclosed interesting data on granite blocks to the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture. Many road builders are coming to regard this material as particularly suitable for trunk lines entering large towns and cities where there is an increasing amount of heavy traffic.

Though the initial cost of granite block construction is high, the maintenance of the pavement, if properly laid and grouted, is less than that of almost any other type of pavement. In Worcester, Mass., over a period of 10 years the average maintenance cost per yard was less than a half cent. This also is true in other cities, regardless of the fact that in general the streets covered with granite block paving are those carrying the most severe traffic.

The Maintenance Cost of This Kind of Pavement, if Properly Laid, Is Less Than That of Almost Any Other Kind of Pavement.

ROAD TESTS IN CALIFORNIA

Over Adobe Land Concrete Is Laid on Sides With Macadam in Middle—Surface Topped.

An experiment in road construction over adobe land is being made in a section of the county highway between Bay Point and Pittsburg, in California.

Experience has shown that concrete roads built over adobe land results in the cracking and disintegrating of the road in a few seasons and in an effort to overcome this trouble County Surveyor Arnold is having the link of the county highway constructed in a manner tried in several eastern states and proved successful.

The concrete is laid in two separate sections, each eight feet wide with a two-foot strip topped the center. In this strip is placed oil macadam which is rolled level to the surface of the concrete and the entire surface is faced with a topping.

GOOD ROADS ARE ESSENTIAL

Success of Motor Truck Express Lines Depends Greatly on Character of Highways.

The success of the motor truck express depends to a very large degree on the character of the roads over which the routes run. Bad roads increase the operating costs, and consequently the rates to patrons, beyond the point of economy. Trucks are destructive to roads unless the roads are permanently built. Therefore, the problem of improving and developing the marketing facilities for farmers through the establishment of rural motor express lines is directly connected with the problem of permanent improvement of the highways.

TRUCK IS QUITE EFFICIENT

Cost of Construction and Maintenance Is Lowered One-Half by Use of Equipment.

In the construction and maintenance of the earth roads in the rural sections, the most efficient equipment yet found consists of a road grader drawn by a five-ton truck. This equipment will do the common grading such as is usually done on this type of road for about one-half the cost of doing the same work with teams in the old way.

MANURE CARRIER IS USEFUL

Cost of Handling Fertilizer Is Materially Reduced—Hauled to Fields Immediately.

The cost of handling manure may be reduced by the use of a carrier and an overhead track. The usual plan is to throw the manure into the carrier; this requires but one handling. The carrier is then dumped into the spreader, which is hauled to the fields and unloaded by the horses. Manure is thus handled but once.

FAMED OLD SPEEDWAY OPENED TO MOTORS

The famous old Speedway now the new Speedway running along the Harlem river, New York city, from 155th street to Dyckman street, was recently opened for the first time to passenger automobiles.

The speedway was originally constructed for the accommodation of trotting horses and racing horses twenty-one years ago. Many of the most famous trotting races in New York were held on the famous dirt course. It was sacred to light horse-drawn pleasure vehicles.

Owing to pressure and the lengthy discussion of its uses it was reconstructed and thrown open to the automobile. The commissioner of parks was recently empowered by the state legislature to open this and other roadways at his own discretion.

USEFUL POINTS FOR CAR OWNER

Automobilist, by Careful Observation of His Machine, Can Save Garage Bills.

REPAIRS ARE EASILY MADE

Many Small Irregularities Can Result in Serious Breakdowns if Not Watched—Some Instructive Little Odds and Ends.

Following are a number of useful points that all good motorists will be glad to learn:

When the engine, after being started, runs for a minute or two and then stops, the first place to look for trouble is in the gasoline feed line. A partial stoppage in the pipe will lessen the flow of fuel so that the float chamber fills slowly. On being started the motor at once consumes this gasoline and then has to wait for more. There is another possible cause of this trouble, and that is the float of the carburetor sticking. Of course, if the float is stuck in a high position the flow of fuel will be greatly lessened or even stopped.

Use for Old Files. Occasionally it becomes necessary for the man who operates his own car to file a piece of cast iron that has been subjected to friction and has acquired a glassy surface of "skin." The best way to get through this skin is to use the edges of an old file, as using a good file on such surfaces will spoil it.

To Clean Spark Plugs. An excellent method of cleaning spark plugs, or in fact any mica surface, is to wash them first in a 10 per cent solution of acetic acid, which is an infallible solvent of grease and carbon deposits. The plugs should then be washed off with gasoline and finally dried by rubbing them with a cloth.

Bluing Metal. The car owner who does his own repair work sometimes finds it's necessary to "blue" small bright objects, such as screws. This may be done by placing them on a piece of sheet iron and holding them over a fire until they assume the desired color.

Cleaning Contact Points. It is sometimes difficult to find a really satisfactory agent for cleaning the contact points of ignition apparatus or the surface of a commutator on a starting motor or a lighting dynamo. There is something known as "cuttlefish paper," which is finer than the finest quality of sandpaper and which is very well adapted to this operation. Cuttlefish paper is not regularly carried by hardware stores, but it may be obtained from dental supply houses.

Interior Wire Break. On rare occasions it happens that a wire breaks inside its insulation, giving no exterior sign of the trouble. The car owner thinks the ignition system has gone bad, changes spark plugs, sends the magneto to the service station, etc., when all the time this interior wire break is the cause. In the event of an obscure ignition trouble remember this.

Leaking Tube. Sometimes an inner tube receives a puncture big enough to allow the tire to become deflated after a brief interval, but not visible to the naked eye. When this happens in the garage the bucket of water tells the tale at once, but on the road about the only way of locating the leak is to inflate the tube and hold successive portions of it close down to the dust along the surface of the road. When the puncture is brought into this position the outpour of air will ruffle the dust and indicate the position of the leak. The varnish on the new car frequently becomes speckled after its first encounter with a rainstorm. These spots are hard to get off, but a treatment with raw oil, applied with plenty of elbow grease, will come as near turning the trick as anything.

Cause of Knocking. In motors with detachable cylinder heads great care should be taken to see that the gasket used to pack the joint does not project into the combustion chamber. When this occurs the gasket is likely to become incandescent, causing preignition knocks and even back-firing in the carburetor.

Home-Made Cement. Four parts of iron filings, two of lime and a fifth part of common salt mixed to a paste with vinegar make an excellent cement for spark plugs, for connecting pipes, etc. When carefully mixed this cement will stand compression and heat and can be air dried.

COASTING DOWN LONG GRADE

It Is Dangerous Practice Unless Driver Is Thoroughly Acquainted With Highway.

Coasting down a long grade with many curves is dangerous, unless you know the road, especially if the engine is running in neutral. Deep sand, a wet spot in the road, or any of a number of conditions might be met that would require quick work to prevent an accident. The driver has better control if the engine is running and the clutch engaged. Poor brakes help to keep the doctors and undertakers busy.

DRAINAGE FOR CRANK CASE

Accumulation of Grit, Particles of Carbon and Dirt Should Be Removed With Oil.

All new cars and those which have been run a few hundred miles should have the cylinder oil drained from the crank case. It is good economy to have this oil drained after the first 500 miles, on account of the accumulation of grit, particles of carbon and dirt from bearings in the oil. This grit is kept in circulation and acts in the same manner as emery, cutting the bearings.

SLOW DOWN AROUND CORNERS

Enforcement of Rule Not Only Protects Pedestrians, but Saves Wear and Tear on Cars.

The traffic rule requiring cars to turn corners at four miles an hour is not merely to protect pedestrians, but is for your benefit as well. Turning corners at high speed strains the tires, spokes and axles, and may result in skidding, followed by an overturned car. So slow down and coast or go into second gear.

AUTOMOBILE FUNTS

Missouri has one motor truck to every 40 farms.

There are 2,121 automobiles registered in Tokio, Japan.

The Japanese are considered skillful automobile drivers.

In the past twenty years 7,700,000 automobiles have been produced in the United States.

Motor trucks distribute 12,000,000 gallons of gasoline daily to supply motor vehicles in the United States.

Police authorities in Brazil keep a record of all careless automobile drivers through a sort of Bertillon system.

In many makes of cars using battery ignition it is possible to keep the car running without the use of the battery.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

Consistency. "Why don't you go to work?" "It would be highly improper for me to do so," answered the communist. "My idea is that people should live without working, and I've got to set an example."

MADE DISCOVERY TOO LATE

Detective's Knowledge Really Did Him Little Good After He Had Acquired It.

While they waited for the train two passengers entered into conversation. Presently one disclosed the fact that he was a detective, and the other was greatly interested.

"I suppose you have an exciting time?" he exclaimed.

Yes, I must say I have had my share of it," owned the sleuth.

"Discovered a great many gigantic frauds, I suppose?"

"I should say so," the detective replied. "Between you and me, the most complete case of fraud I ever saw was a woman, young and pretty. I would have been ready to swear she was an angel. But she has a temper like a whirlwind, and is as cunning as a serpent."

"How did you discover her true character?"

"I married her!"

Oregon City, Oregon—"I would not be alive today if it were not for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I doctored with the doctors for five years for indigestion of the liver and severe stomach trouble, but continued to grow worse. I lived three months on crackers and milk. I had big liver blotches on my face, my heart was weak, would have spells of being numb all over, my stomach would bloat terribly, and I would have such hard pain in my stomach that the perspiration would just pour off me. I also had terrible headaches. A neighbor told me about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and bought me a bottle. I continued taking it until I was completely cured. I have kept it in the house ever since. It is a wonderful medicine and I just can't say too much in its favor as I know it saved my life."—MRS. M. E. HYATT, 5th and Monroe Sts.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY FOR THE BLOOD, LIVER, LUNGS.

THE "BLUES" Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy. These conditions are due to outside influences that they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloating, etc., will, if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach! Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "Blues" and gloom. Thoughtful. There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings out such quick relief from your stomach misery—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvelously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

NOTICE OF SALE OF WATERWORKS IMPROVEMENT BONDS, AND STREET WORK BONDS, OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA.

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Clerk of the City of Sierra Madre, California, until 7:30 o'clock p. m. of Thursday, April 1st, 1920, to purchase certain Municipal Bonds of said City of Sierra Madre, to-wit:

First: Waterworks Improvement Bonds in the amount of Sixty Thousand ($60,000.00) Dollars. Said Bonds are forty-year serials and are eighty in number, forty of said Bonds in the denomination of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each, and forty of said Bonds in the denomination of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars each, and the principal and interest thereon are payable in lawful money of the United States. They are dated March 1st, 1920, and bear interest at the rate of five and one-half per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the 1st day of September and the 1st day of March each year.

One of said Bonds of the denomination of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars and one of said Bonds of the denomination of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars are due and payable on the 1st day of March, 1921, and one of said Bonds of the denomination of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars and one of said Bonds of the denomination of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars on the same day and date of each and every year thereafter, at the City Treasury of said City of Sierra Madre, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date.

Second: Street Work Bonds of said City of Sierra Madre in the amount of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars. Said Bonds are ten in number and each of said Bonds is in the denomination of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars, and the principal and interest thereon are payable in lawful money of the United States. They are dated March 1st, 1920, and bear interest at the rate of five and one-half per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the 1st day of September and the 1st day of March of each year.

One of said bonds is due and payable on the 1st day of March, 1921, and one of said Bonds on the same day and date of each and every year thereafter, at the City Treasury of said City of Sierra Madre, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date.

All of said Bonds are issued under the authority of the act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, and regulating the acquisition, construction, or completion thereof," which became a law February 25th, 1901, and the amendments thereto, and in accordance with the provisions of law and the ordinances of said City.

No proposals for said Bonds will be entertained at less than their face value together with the accrued interest to the date of their delivery, and all bids or proposals submitted will be construed by the Board of Trustees of said City to mean par and accrued interest to the date of delivery of said Bonds in addition to the premium offered, whether the bids or proposals set forth the same explicitly or not.

The said bonds will be ready for delivery on or about April 15th, 1920, and will be delivered at the City Treasurer's office, in the City of Sierra Madre, California, or at any designated place upon the payment by the purchaser of all expenses incurred by the delivery of the bonds and transfer of the money necessary to make delivery and payment equivalent to a transaction at the office of the City Treasurer in the said City of Sierra Madre.

All bids or proposals providing for delivery at any place other than the City of Sierra Madre, California, will be construed by the Board of Trustees to mean the price bid in addition to the expenses of delivery, whether the bid or proposal sets forth the same explicitly or not.

Separate proposals or bids may be submitted for said Waterworks Improvement Bonds and for said Street Work Bonds. With each proposal or bid for said Waterworks Improvement Bonds must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check drawn upon some bank in the State of California, payable to the order of the City Treasurer of the City of Sierra Madre for the sum of Seven Hundred and Fifty ($750.00) Dollars; and with each proposal or bid for said Street Work Bonds must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check drawn upon some bank in the State of California, payable to the order of the City Treasurer of the City of Sierra Madre, for the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty ($250.00) Dollars as a guarantee that the bidder will purchase and pay for said bonds in accordance with his proposal in the event the bid is accepted.

The Board of Trustees of said City reserves the right to reject any and all bids or proposals.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre, made at a regular meeting of said Board on March 11th, 1920.

MAY SPEAK HERE

Major J. C. Shindler of the Arcadia Ballroom School, and Major Herbert Ruggles Fay of the Adjutant General's Department, Washington, D. C., were callers at the News office Saturday to arrange for a date to address the citizens of Sierra Madre on "The Peace Time Army."

Both gentlemen are dated ahead at various places for some time in the future and were referred to James N. Hawks, Secretary of the Board of Trade, who quickly offered them the regular board meeting, a week from Monday, April 5th., which they will accept, provided they are not billed elsewhere at that time or can change the date of another engagement.

We hope to be able to announce next week, that our people may have an opportunity of hearing these officers at the next meeting of the Board of Trade.

BAD SOUTH BALDWIN WILL BE GOOD

The one thing connected with Sierra Madre that has caused most unfavorable comment to say nothing of cuss words and broken springs, is that part of South Baldwin avenue south of the city limits connecting this place with the Foothill boulevard.

This piece of bad road is in the Arcadia territory and after promising and patching for a year the city trustees of that village have appropriated the money and are only waiting for dry weather to begin resurfacing the road, so at least we were informed at the Arcadia city hall day before yesterday.

When the job is finished it will be the popular entrance to Sierra Madre on account of the easier grade and many additional machines may be expected to pass through this place.

REAL ESTATE MOVING

Several transfers in real estate occurred this week and several deals are now under way. The real estate men have promised a list of transfers next week.

SCHOOL NEWS

(Christine Snell, 8th Grade)

The kindergarten has been transformed into a spring garden with flowers and butterflies made by the children.

Cadets from Broadoaks school, Miss Elizabeth McDonald of Pasadena and Miss Gladys Kimball of Sierra Madre, are cadeting in the kindergarten and the first grade.

The fourth grade is anticipating an Easter party at which they expect to have an egg race, an egg basket race, Easter poem read by members of the class, and Easter stories written by the class.

One of the fifth grade's silk worms has begun to spin its cocoon.

The fifth grade is also going to have an Easter party but the program is as yet a mystery.

They are now studying South America in Geography and have made some fine maps. Donson Tarr wrote the prize story on Brazil. The prize was one of the Perry pictures.

The seventh and eighth grades had a St. Patrick's day party at the kindergarten which Mr. Reynolds thought he knew all about but he wondered why the refreshment committee did not give in their report. But the mystery was solved when a great big birthday cake appeared and he was presented with a gold knife in honor of his birthday.

Miss Edith Evans, the kindergarten teacher, and Miss Marion Evans, the sixth grade teacher, were invited to dinner at the home of H. R. Gregory Thursday evening.

The following is one of the Easter stories written by the fourth grade:

Easter Comes Once a Year

(Hugh Addis, 4th Grade)

When Reddy Owens woke up Easter morning he stretched his arms and sighed, "Easter comes once a year, so here goes." He hopped out of bed with one jump.

Reddy then put on his clothes and walked outside. The first place he looked was in the berry vines and there lay in a little nest a half dozen eggs. Reddy rubbed his eyes to make sure he wasn't dreaming and looked again. Yes, the eggs were still there.

But what surprised Reddy was that the eggs were not colored. He had never known his mother not to color eggs for Easter. Then on second thought he said to himself, "Why, maybe she never had time." Yes, that was about it.

Then Reddy took the eggs into the house and after breakfast started peeling one. It was all runny, but Reddy thought it had happened not to be boiled enough. Then Reddy took his first bite.

That was enough. He let out a yell, "Say, Ma, what did you put in these eggs?" "Why, nothing; what's the matter?" "Oh, nothing, nothing at all," replied Reddy, growing angry. "Why where did you get your eggs?" asked his mother. "In the berry vines," he answered.

His mother chuckled and said, "Why, Reddy, they are the eggs the chickens have been sitting on!" "Oh!" he muttered. He was so angry that that was all he could say.

Sixth Grade Notes.

Sports on the playground.

Baseball—Under the leadership of Billy Sommer, captain of the baseball team, the sixth grade have planned a series of games against the seventh and eighth grades here and against Arcadia, Monrovia, and Lamanda Park school teams. Every recess finds Billy's team busy practicing for the first big game against Arcadia, which is to be held during the first week after Easter vacation. The boys and girls have also planned to have a regular track meet at the end of the year and are beginning to practice running, jumping and distance throwing.

The Campfire girls organization of the sixth grade went on a hike chaperoned by Miss Marian Evans and her sister, Miss Edith Evans. The girls were Sarah Schwartz, the hostess, Ethel Karpf, Mary Allen, Florence Groger and Esther Silberman. Several interesting incidents occurred, such as killing a red racer 5 inches long that ran in front of them. Sarah struck the fatal blow. They stopped at the half way house to spend money on such things as candy, soda water, and ice water. Each girl took her own lunch which was carried by Ned, the horse. As the girls took turns riding with the lunches all were anxious for their turn to go across the streams. When they arrived at Schwartz's cabin they had lunch, rested and went the rest of the way to the falls, where they had a good time jumping the stepping stones and getting drinks. They went back to the cabin to make fudge, which turned out to be "candy soup" so they were forced to eat it with spoons. They started down at twenty minutes to five and had an exciting time coming down in the dark. They arrived in the canyon safely and in time to be

MY SERENADE

There's beauty in the dawn that glows
With clear, unshadowed light,
But more soothing balm my spirit knows

In a rainfall thru the night.
It makes me feel so comfy, snug,
To huddle down in bed;

Around my throat the covers hug,
While the rain beats overhead,
Plenty good old music rare
I'd like to hear again,
But none for me that can compare
With the music of the rain.

THE MODERN BIRD.

"This," said the little bird, "is a true story."

"Is it now?" asked the canary.

"It most certainly is," said the first little bird who had spoken. He had a buff-colored breast and was a little land bird who was on a great ship far out in the ocean. They had named him Buffy.

"Of course, you know how I came here," he asked.

"I knew there was a great deal of excitement," the canary said. "Perhaps you would tell me your story from the beginning. I am sure I would appreciate it greatly if you would."

"Oh, very well," said Buffy. "I will tell you the whole story. But first I will tell it to you as it happened."

"Why, were you going to tell it to me in any other way?" asked the canary with his head on one side, looking most extremely shocked.

"Oh, no," said Buffy. "You quite misunderstood me, or, perhaps, I should say I was not very clear."

"I will not interrupt any more," chirped the canary.

Both birds were in large cages. The canary belonged to a sailor on the ship which was crossing the Atlantic ocean. The little buff bird had been found on the deck one morning, very nervous and frightened, his feathers wet, his heart beating fast, by the sailor who owned the canary.

He saw that the little buff bird was still alive and he took him to his cabin and saw that he was warm again and that he had some of the canary's extra supply of food. Then he gave him another cage he had and when Buffy felt better put his cage in the warm, snug cabin where the canary was and where the men on board came to read.

"They thought," the canary said, "that you had been blown out to sea—that is, some of them thought it. They knew you weren't a sea bird and yet very few could believe that you had either flown or blown such a long distance. They said that very few of the water birds would fly such a distance. And they didn't see how you could have been blown such a distance and still be alive when you got here. You were alive, but oh, my master said, you were very tired and wet and nervous. I should think you would have been flying to a ship like this in the middle of the ocean. But here I am talking some more."

"What did they finally decide was the way I had come?" asked Buffy.

"They decided," the canary answered, "that you must have flown from your cage in the cabin of another ship and that you took a little airing and that a storm suddenly arose and you couldn't find your way back through the storm—and so you happened upon our deck."

"Well," said Buffy, "that wasn't such a bad guess, but it isn't right. I will tell you all about it."

"Yes, I've done most of the talking," the canary said, "and I wanted to hear about you."

"In the first place," said Buffy, "I am happy here and I wasn't so happy on my own ship. I wasn't made such a pet of as I am here. They really didn't care for birds like your master and his friends do."

"So one day I thought I would take a trip. I had heard, during the past few months or more—I'm not much on time you know—though I know when it is spring and winter and summer and autumn and molting time and mating time and such—but on the seas I'm not so certain as to when it happened—"

"Anyway—I'm getting rather too far ahead on my story—I had heard for quite a little while of the wonderful people who flew across the ocean—men in airships. I heard how they won prizes and how fine it was."

"Well, I thought I'd like to do the same. It would be a fine thing for me, a land bird, to fly across the ocean. So I left my ship when my cage door was opened and the cabin porthole was open and off I came to fly across the ocean. I hoped at the end I would receive a big trunk of seed and a nice box of lettuce and a suitcase of cuttlefish for my rewards. But also, I was overtaken by storm as so many flyers are, birds and men. And I was forced to make this landing! But I'm glad I did and I don't believe I'll fly again for awhile. It's still a bit risky—even if one has his wings right with him!"

"Oh," said the canary admiringly, "what a modern bird you are, what a very modern bird!"

TARZAN

AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Author of
"Tarzan of the Apes"
"Son of Tarzan"

Copyright, 1918, by A. C. McClurg & Co.

"ALL NIGHT I SHALL TORTURE HIM."

Synopsis.—Hiding in the jungle after killing his captain in a fit of brooding madness, Lieut. Albert Werper, Belgian officer, is captured by Achmet Zek, Arab slave raider, who spares his life and proposes to him a scheme to kidnap Jane, wife of Tarzan (Lord Greystoke), and sell her into slavery. Werper accepted by the Greystokes. He learns his host is in financial straits and is planning an expedition to the treasure vaults of Opar to procure gold. Werper Tarzan to learn the secret of Opar. Spying on Tarzan, Werper sees him load his blacks with gold from the treasure chamber of the Sun Worshippers. A convulsion of Nature causes the collapse of the vault, imprisoning both men. Werper recovers from the shock and leaves Tarzan apparently dead. Seeking a way to safety Werper is seized by priests of the Flaming God, a degenerate race. He is about to be offered up as a sacrifice when the ceremonies are interrupted by the appearance of a hunger-maddened lion. Believing Tarzan dead his black followers return home with the gold. Achmet Zek, acting on word of Lady Greystoke, Mugambi, Tarzan's lieutenant, is severely wounded but the accident has destroyed the Greystoke home, burned it, and carried off Lady Greystoke. Werper, Tarzan's lieutenant, is severely wounded but the accident has destroyed the Greystoke home, burned it, and carried off Lady Greystoke. Werper, Tarzan's lieutenant, is severely wounded but the accident has destroyed the Greystoke home, burned it, and carried off Lady Greystoke.

For several hours Tarzan lolled upon his swaying, leafy couch until once again hunger and thirst suggested an excursion. Stretching lazily he dropped to the ground and moved slowly toward the river. Tarzan had almost reached the point where the trail debouched upon the open river bottom when he saw a family of lions approaching along the path from the direction of the river. The ape-man counted seven—a male and two lionesses, full grown, and four young lions as large and quite as formidable as their parents. Tarzan halted, growling, and the lions paused, the great male in the lead baring his fangs and rumbling forth a warning roar. In his hand the ape-man held his heavy spear; but he had no intention of pitting his puny weapon against seven lions; yet he stood there growling and roaring and the lions did likewise. It was purely an exhibition of jungle bluff. Each was trying to frighten the other. Neither wished to turn back and give way, nor did either at first desire to precipitate an encounter. The lions were led sufficiently so as not to be goaded by pangs of hunger and as for Tarzan he seldom ate the meat of the carnivores; but a point of ethics was at stake and neither side wished to back down. So they stood there facing one another, making all sorts of hideous noises the while they hurled jungle invective back and forth.

There came an interruption which put an end to the deadlock and it came from Tarzan's rear. He and the lions had been making so much noise that neither could hear anything above their concerted bedlam, and so it was that Tarzan did not hear the great bulk bearing down from behind until an instant before it was upon him, and then he turned to see Buto, the rhinoceros, his little pig eyes blazing, charging madly toward him and already so close that escape seemed impossible; yet so perfectly were mind and muscles co-ordinated in this unspoiled, primitive man that almost simultaneously with the sense-perception of the threatened danger he wheeled and hurled his spear at Buto's chest. It was a heavy spear shod with iron, and behind it were the giant muscles of the ape-man, while coming to meet it was the enormous weight of Buto and the momentum of his rapid rush. All that happened in the instant that Tarzan turned to meet the charge of the irascible rhinoceros might take long to tell, and yet would have taxed the swiftest lens to record. As his spear left his hand the ape-man was looking down upon the mighty horn lowered to toss him, so close was Buto to him. The spear entered the rhinoceros' neck at its junction with the left shoulder and passed almost entirely through the beast's body, and at the instant that he launched it, Tarzan leaped straight into the air, alighting upon Buto's back, but escaping the mighty horn.

Then Buto espied the lions and bore madly down upon them while Tarzan of the Apes leaped nimbly into the tangled creepers at one side of the trail. The first lion met Buto's charge and was tossed high over the back of the maddened brute, torn and dying, and then the six remaining lions were upon the rhinoceros, rending and tearing the while they were being gored or trampled. From the safety of his perch Tarzan watched the battle royal with the keenest interest. For a time it seemed that Buto, the rhinoceros, would prove victor in the gory battle. Already had he accounted for four of the seven lions and badly wounded the three remaining when, in a temporary lull in the encounter, he sank limply to his knees and rolled over upon his side. Tarzan's spear had pierced the great lungs, and Buto, with victory almost in sight, succumbed to internal hemorrhage.

Then Tarzan came down from his sanctuary and as the wounded lions, growling, dragged themselves away, the ape-man cut his spear from the body of Buto, hacked off a steak and vanished into the jungle. The episode was over. It had been all in the day's work—something which you and I might talk about for a lifetime. Tarzan dismissed from his mind the moment that the scene passed from his sight.

Swinging back through the jungle in a wide circle the ape-man came to the river at another point, drank and took to the trees again and while he hunted, all oblivious of his past and careless of his future, there came through the dark jungles and the open, park-like places and across the wide meadows, where grazed the countless herds of the mysterious continent, a weird and terrible caravan in search of him. There were fifty frightful men with hairy bodies and gnarled and crooked legs. They were armed with knives and great bludgeons and at their head marched an almost naked woman, beautiful beyond compare. It was La of Opar, High Priestess of the Flaming God, and fifty of her horrid priests searching for the purloiner of the sacred sacrificial knife.

Never before had La passed beyond the crumbling outer walls of Opar; but never before had need been so insistent. The sacred knife was gone! Handed down through countless ages it had come to her as a heritage and an insignia of her religious office and regal authority from some long-dead progenitor of lost and forgotten Atlantis. When that continent, with all its mighty cities and its cultivated fields and great commerce and culture and riches sank into the sea long ages since, it took with it all but a handful of colonists working the vast gold mines of central Africa. From these and their degraded slaves and a later intermixture of the blood of the antrophids sprung the gnarled men of Opar; but by some queer freak of fate, aided by natural selection, the old Atlantean strain had remained pure and undegraded in the females descended from a single princess of the royal house of Atlantis who had been in Opar at the time of the great catastrophe. Such was La.

Tarzan Leaped Straight Into the Air

Burning with white-hot anger was the high priestess, her heart a seething, molten mass of hatred for Tarzan of the Apes. The zeal of the religious fanatic whose altar has been desecrated was triply enhanced by the rage of a woman scorned. Twice had she thrown her heart at the feet of the godlike ape-man and twice had she been repulsed. Before Tarzan came that first time to Opar, La had never seen a human male other than the grotesque and knotted men of her clan. With one of these she must mate sooner or later that the direct line of high priestesses might not be broken, unless fate should bring other men to Opar.

Among the legends of Opar were tales of godlike men of the olden time and of black men who had come more recently; but these latter had been enemies who killed and robbed. And, too, these legends always held forth the hope that some day that nameless continent from which their race had sprung would rise once more out of the sea and with slaves at the long sweeps would send her carven, gold-packed galleys forth to succor the long-exiled colonists.

The coming of Tarzan had aroused within La's breast the wild hope that at last the fulfillment of this ancient prophecy was at hand; but more strongly still had it aroused the hot fires of love in a heart that never otherwise would have known the meaning of that all-consuming passion, for such a wondrous creature as La could never have felt love for any of the repulsive priests of Opar. Custom, duty and religious zeal might have commanded the union; but there could have been no love on La's part. She had grown to young womanhood a cold and heartless creature, daughter of a thousand other cold, heartless, beautiful women who had never known love. And so when love came to her it liberated all the pent passions of a thousand generations, transforming La into a pulsing, throbbing volcano of desire, and with desire thwarted this great force of love and gentleness and sacrifice was transmuted by its own fires into one of hatred and revenge.

It was in a state of mind superinduced by these conditions that La led forth her jabbering company to retrieve the sacred emblem of her high office and wreak vengeance upon the author of her wrongs. He should be tortured. His should be a slow and frightful death. His punishment should be adequate to the immensity of his crime. He had wrested the sacred knife from La; he had laid sacrilegious hands upon the High Priestess of the Flaming God; he had desecrated the altar and the temple. For these things he should die; but he had scorned the love of La, the woman, and for this he should die horribly with great anguish.

The march of La and her priests was not without its adventures. Un-used were these to the ways of the jungle, since seldom did any venture forth from behind Opar's crumbling walls, yet their very numbers protected them and so they came without fatalities far along the trail of Tarzan and Werper. Three great apes accompanied them and to these was delegated the business of tracking the quarry, a feat beyond the senses of the Oparians. La commanded. She was a hard taskmaster, too, for she looked down with loathing and contempt upon the misshapen creatures amongst which cruel fate had thrown her and to some extent vented upon them her dissatisfaction and her thwarted love. She made them build her a strong protection and shelter before it from dusk to dawn. When she tired of walking they were forced to carry her upon an improvised litter, nor did one dare to question her authority or her right to such services.

For many days they marched, the apes following the trail easily and going a little distance ahead of the body of the caravan that they might warn the others of impending danger. It was during a noonday halt while all were lying resting after a tiresome march that one of the apes rose suddenly and sniffed the breeze. In a low guttural he cautioned the others to silence and a moment later was swinging quietly up wind into the jungle. La and the priests gathered silently together, the hideous little men fingering their knives and bludgeons, and awaited the return of the shaggy anthropoid.

Nor had they long to wait before they saw him emerge from a leafy thicket and approach them. Straight to La he came and in the language of the great apes, which was also the language of decadent Opar, he addressed her.

"The great Tarmangani lies asleep there," he said, pointing in the direction from which he had just come. "Come and we can kill him."

"Do not kill him," commanded La in cold tones. "Bring the great Tarmangani to me alive and unhurt. The vengeance is La's. Go; but make no sound!" and she waved her hands to include all her followers.

Cautiously the weird party crept through the jungle in the wake of the great ape until at last he halted them with a raised hand and pointed upward a little ahead. There they saw the giant form of the ape-man stretched along a low bough and even in sleep one hand grasped a stout limb and one strong, brown leg reached out and overlapped another. At ease lay Tarzan of the Apes, sleeping heavily upon a full stomach and dreaming of Numa, the lion, and Horta, the boar, and other creatures of the jungle. No intimation of danger assailed the dormant faculties of the ape-man—he saw no crouching hairy figures upon the ground beneath him nor the three apes that swung quietly into the tree beside him.

The first intimation of danger that came to Tarzan was the impact of three bodies as the three apes leaped upon him and buried him to the ground, where he alighted half stunned beneath their combined weight, and was immediately set upon by the fifty hairy men or as many of them as could swarm upon his person. Instantly the ape-man became the center of a whirling, striking, biting maelstrom of horror. He fought nobly, but the odds against him were too great. Slowly they overcame him, though there was scarce one of them did not feel the weight of his mighty fist or the rending of his fangs.

CHAPTER X.

Condemned to Torture and Death.

La had followed her company and when she saw them clawing and biting at Tarzan she raised her voice and cautioned them not to kill him. She saw that he was weakening and that soon the greater numbers would prevail over him, nor had she long to wait before the mighty jungle creature lay helpless and bound at her feet.

"Bring him to the place at which we stopped," she commanded, and they carried Tarzan back to the little clearing and threw him down beneath a tree.

"Build me a shelter!" ordered La. "We shall stop here tonight and tomorrow in the face of the Flaming God La will offer up the heart of this defiler of the temple. Where is the sacred knife? Who took it from him?"

But no one had seen it and each was positive in his assurance that the sacrificial weapon had not been upon Tarzan's person when they captured him. The ape-man looked upon the menacing creatures which surrounded him and snarled his defiance. He looked upon La and smiled. In the face of death he was unafraid.

"Where is the knife?" La asked him.

"I do not know," replied Tarzan. "The man took it away with him when he slipped away during the night. Of what good was your knife, anyway? You can make another. Did you follow us all this way for nothing more than a knife? Let me go and find him and I will bring it back to you."

La laughed a bitter laugh, for in her heart she knew that Tarzan's sin was greater than the purloining of the sacred sacrificial knife of Opar; yet as she looked at him lying bound and helpless before her, tears rose to her eyes so that she had to turn away to hide them; but she remained inflexible in her determination to make him pay in frightful suffering and in eventual death for daring to spurn the love of La.

When the shelter was completed La had Tarzan transferred to it. "All night I shall torture him," she muttered to her priests, "and at the first streak of dawn you may prepare the flaming altar upon which his heart shall be offered up to the Flaming God."

During the balance of the day the priests of Opar were busy erecting an altar in the center of the clearing, and while they worked they chanted weird hymns in the ancient tongue of that lost continent that lies at the bottom of the Atlantic.

In the shelter of the hut La paced to and fro beside the stolid ape-man. Resigned to his fate was Tarzan. No hope of succor gleamed through the dead black of the death sentence hanging over him. He knew that his giant muscles could not part the many strands that bound his wrists and ankles, for he had strained often but ineffectually for release. He had no hope of outside help and only enemies surrounded him within the camp, and yet he smiled at La as she paced nervously back and forth the length of the shelter.

And La? She fingered her knife and looked down upon her captive. She glared and muttered but she did not strike. "Tonight!" she thought. "Tonight, when it is dark I will torture him." She looked upon his perfect, godlike figure and upon his handsome, smiling face and then she steeled her heart again by thoughts of her love spurned; by religious thoughts that damned the infidel who had desecrated the holy of holies; who had taken from the blood-stained altar of Opar the offering to the Flaming God—and not once but thrice. Three times had Tarzan cheated the god of her fathers. At the thought La paused and knelt at his side. In her hand was a sharp knife. She placed its point against the ape-man's side and pressed upon the hilt; but Tarzan only smiled and shrugged his shoulders.

Tantor to the Rescue

The Sea-Wolf.

Of all the inhabitants of the ocean few are more destructive than the sea-wolf, a kind of dolphin which attains, when full grown, a length of 14 feet and a weight of 3,000 pounds. When a mother walrus perceives a sea-wolf it endeavors to throw its cub on an iceberg, if one is near. Falling in this, it gets the cub on top of its head and swims with it above the water. But this is vain. Diving far below, the fish of prey comes up with tremendous force, striking the frantic mother a terrific blow and jolting the cub off its head into the water. Here it falls an easy victim to the assailant and is soon devoured.

Blame Nightmare on Demon. In some portions of the continent of Europe a nightmare is believed to be a spectral creature that comes and takes a seat on the breast of the unconscious sleeper, half smothering him and not permitting him to move. As those who have suffered therefrom say they cannot so much as bend the little finger during those moments of anguish it is not surprising that the superstition explained the condition as a malicious demon crushing his victim.

CAME NEAR DYING

Finally Used Doan's and Was Restored to Health. Has Been Strong and Well Since.

"Malaria fever weakened my kidneys when I was a young man," says L. W. Garrison, 23 F St., Anderson, S. C. "Finally, ten years ago, I was in such bad shape that I expected to die. Medicine wouldn't help me any more. My back pained as if it were pierced with a knife. Many times I have fallen in the street and didn't have any strength to move until the awful misery was eased up. I couldn't sleep in bed for two years. The kidney secretions passed every few minutes and scalding hot water couldn't have burned any worse. I thought I was doomed to die, but a friend pleaded with me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I owe my life to his visit. Doan's helped me from the start and eleven boxes made a permanent cure which has lasted eight years. I have not had one sick minute since, nor missed a day from work." Sworn to before me.

The following were in a list of 125 subjects reported as having been observed by Harold Chastain, of Troop No. 10 of Oakland, Cal., while on a recent hike:

Eucalyptus tree, English sparrow, pine tree, sycamore tree, sage brush, manzanita tree, scrub or live oak, wild blackberry vines, nuttall sparrow, ground squirrel, western bluebird, cedar, bush tit, cottontail, dandelion, gnats, Scotch thistle, white willow, dog track, lizard, ferns, chickweed, laurel, weeping willow, bay trees, poison oak, buckeye, anna hummer, western robin, Brewer blackbird, mountain quail, pine tree blown down on ground, red willow, tree squirrel, serpentine, quartz, holly berries, western gull, nuthatch, Peter sparrow, pampas grass, sandstone, woodpecker hole, lake (Inland), russet-back thrush, black poplar, cat-tails, bees, cottonwood, toadstools, squirrel hole, frog, bones of some animal, cow trails around hill, mushrooms, ladybugs, butterflies, defective pine lump, chaparral, western robin, shrike, quail tracks, horse flies, spider on cypress, grasshopper, wild strawberries, moss, wild lettuce, flock of geese, Bermuda grass, filaree, song sparrow, milkweed, eucalyptus blown down, cactus plant, redwood stump, wild rose, large piece of redwood bark, chickadee, stink bean tree, large cobwebs, mosquitoes, squirrel track, beetle, madrone, wild gooseberries, snake hole, buzzard, bunch grass, fox-tail grass, black ants, daddy longlegs, dragon fly, centipede, coyote skeleton, signs of beaver, large rabbit hole, snake tracks, lime formation, woodrat nests, large blade of grass, gopher holes, chipmunk, apple tree, pear tree, chicken hawk, heard cricket, linnet.

It speaks of a sable wrap that has just been sold for $90,000 and of many that have been sold to women this winter for $50,000. That's a neat little total just there.

It quotes one Fifth avenue house as saying that in one day seven mink coats were purchased, each one for over $3,000. It states that all the furriers declare that this has been the best season in the history of the trade and that never before has there been such expenditure in peltry and never before have women in and out of society bought with so lavish a hand.

And be well assured that the common garden animal does not sell cheap in this flurry of furs. Nothing that has hair and hide goes for a small price. The legend is that a string of beads could buy furs from an Indian, but today that string of beads would have to be one of matched pearls.

The cat, the raccoon, the opossum, the mink, the otter and the beaver are American fur-bearing animals which have reached a value beyond the furthest imagination of the early trappers who accumulated large fortunes and grew to be American household names.

Wear American Peltry.

Through the usage of these furs we do not depend wholly on Europe for our peltries now. We persuade the world to wear what our vast forests produce. Mink and beaver have reached an incredible price, as an example of the value put upon American fur. Hudson seal, the genuine, not the imitation, also sells at a high price and is bought by the average woman who may be working for her living.

A comforting statement made by the furriers is that the American woman demands a high grade of fur today; that cheap coats and neckpieces do not sell as well as they did five years ago. Perhaps everything is priced so high that a woman prefers to spend a few more dollars and get something genuine that will last, especially as her own income, if she is a wage-earner, is higher than it has ever been in the history of industrial life.

There is a segment of women who regard the first of the year as the time to buy reduced fur coats. Are they wise? Not even a prophet can answer that question, nor can a soothsayer foretell disaster or benefit from such a custom.

These are the women who divide their purchasing of furs into two parts: the huge, comfortable coat which serves every hour of the day and all the informal hours of the evening when one is in the open; and the fantastic piece of fur that is made to serve a chill day in the early spring or as an accessory to a thin frock in the drawing room or restaurant.

It is on these smaller furs that attention is focused, for everyone already knows whatever there is to know about comfortable coats.

Small, fanciful furs, however, are as varied as the days of winter. It is in this field that the designers are working like beavers. They are twisting and turning various peltries that grow on beasts, wild or tame, in order to build up alluring little garments that will keep women interested in furs and provide them with an accessory that guarantees a new appearance to an old gown.

Fur Pieces for the Mild Days

The furriers are having a mad, gay time of it. They have been so rushed with orders since the first of autumn that they claim inability to turn out the last of the winter coats until almost spring, writes a New York fashion correspondent. All that was kept over from last year was sold before Thanksgiving, they say.

New York has been the storm center of this peltry buying. The wealth of the country is usually expended in luxuries in its huge centers, as France found out during the war, and America found out the day after the armistice. The fact that a state of peace did not really exist between the belligerents had no effect on the lavish manner in which money was poured out by those who had it.

Peltry is a pearl of price these days, no matter how it is handled or where it is bought, and by this token one realizes that there is vast wealth in the country, despite the taxes and the Model wearing a breastplate, back and front, of striped fur which has a high collar carried to the chin. It is girdled with a heavy cord of dull gold metal, which ties in front and ends in tassels.

H. C. of L. Not all of the splendid peltry coats are old possessions. Many of them bear the mark of 1920 and the label of a new furrier, so their cost is self-evident, and cost is the dominating topic of conversation on the American continent. This would shock grandmother, for to tell what things cost was once considered a sign of ill breeding; to talk of one's expenses or the inflation or reduction of one's income was looked at as the kind of bad taste not permitted by those who were selective in their choice of social companions; but all these distinctions have been swept aside with other notions.

To Get Fashion Ideas.

The way to get an idea of what is fashionable and what is not is to observe the crowds, especially during winter and summer months. During that time hordes of Americans pass

Many Arrangements for Small Furs

There is quite a flash of imagination shown by individuals in arranging these small fur pieces. The majority of them are suggested by the women who buy them, who have arrived at the conclusion that a lengthy visit to the furrier often results in a new and amazing trifle that lends distinction.

The reason these small pieces of fur have their inings is the fashion for retaining bits of peltry over decollete gowns in the house. Now that some of us are thoroughly launched in the shortest of French skirts and sleeves, with a decollete that extends to the depth prescribed for evening, we find ourselves willing to wear warm accessories that give becoming tones to the flesh.

There is a scarf of white coney, which is buttoned with jet and edged with black. It is an alluring garment and signifies a commendable attempt to cover too much skin exposed by a black velvet gown which is more skirt than frock.

QUALITIES OF COMMON FRUITS.

Every housekeeper who plans the meals should have a clear understanding of the qualities of fruit and teach these to her children. She should know that fruit is not a luxury but a necessity. The acid fruits are:

Lemon—Excessive citric acid, antibilious, potash salts, lime and magnesia.

Orange—Moderate citric acid, laxative, valuable.

Grapefruit—Excessive citric acid, bitter tonic, purifying.

Strawberry—Citric and malic acid, antibilious, potash, lime, soda.

Cherry—Tonic.

Cranberry—Citric acid, iron, tonic.

Current—Citric acid.

Gooseberry—Citric acid and malic acid.

Blackberry—Iron, constipating.

Sub acid fruits:

Apple—Malic acid, phosphates, laxative, sugar.

Pear—Iron, potash salts, very laxative, sugar.

Peach, apricot—Laxative, and sugar.

Plum—Very laxative, nitrogen, sugar.

Grapes—Tartaric and phosphoric acids, potash salts, iron, excessive sugar.

Raisin—Dried grapes, more laxative than fresh grapes.

Pineapple—Natural pepsin, sugar.

Raspberry, loganberry, huckleberry—Mild, refreshing, moderate sugar.

Elderberry—Astringent and medicinal.

Starch and Sugar Fruits:

Banana—Constipating, excessive starch.

Fig—Very laxative, sugar, protein.

Date—Excessive sugar, protein.

Alligator pear—Oil, starch.

Melon—Refreshing, sugar, purifying.

Such fruits as water and musk melons contain upward of 95 per cent of water. The flavor is agreeable and in hot weather they are especially refreshing.

The value of fruits in season cannot be overestimated. Dried fruits compare with cereals, says Langworthy.

SEASONABLE FOODS.

Thrift has become the slogan, and to practice it we must increase our knowledge in regard to suitable substitutes for costly foods which we have been used to regard as common and cheap. Meat is the great expense in many households. Try using:

Baked Calf's Liver.—Wash and carefully remove the tough portions and lard with small strips of salt pork. Dust with salt and pepper and brown in hot pork fat. Cover with one cupful of hot water and put into a hot oven, basting twice during the half-hour's baking. The last basting use one tablespoonful of flour with two tablespoonfuls of thick sour cream; season well and serve.

Spiced Sauce for Suet or Bread Pudding.—Mix well two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and one cupful of sugar; add one pint of boiling water, the juice and rind of a lemon, one tablespoonful of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of butter and one teaspoonful of mixed spices. Cook well before adding the butter, lemon and vinegar.

Squash Muffins.—Mix together three cupfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder; add one cupful of dry sifted squash with half a cupful of milk, one egg and another half cupful of milk. Add two tablespoonfuls of finely-chopped suet, melted. Beat thoroughly and bake in well greased muffin pans in a hot oven 25 minutes.

Peach Bird's Nest Pudding.—Put a layer of canned peaches in a well-buttered pie plate and pour over them a one-egg cake mixture. Bake in a hot oven until the cake is done. Remove the cake from the oven and turn upside down on a hot plate. Sprinkle with sugar, dot with butter and finish with a grating of nutmeg or cinnamon. Serve hot.

Ham a la Italienne.—Take a two-pound slice of ham cut one inch in thickness. Place in a frying pan and over it slice four small onions, cover with a pint of tomato and a generous sprinkling of salt and pepper with half a cupful of water. Cover and bake an hour or longer in a moderate oven. Remove the ham to a hot platter and thicken the tomato and fat in the pan with a tablespoonful of flour mixed with a little water.

Corn-Meal Puffs.—Take one tablespoonful of butter, one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth cupful each of sugar and flour, one-half cupful of cornmeal, two eggs and two cupfuls of baking powder. Scald the milk, add the cornmeal and butter, and when cool the other ingredients. Beat well and bake in buttered pans.

Dainty Dessert.—Beat the white of one egg with half a glass of jelly until stiff. Heap on a glass plate and surround with a thin custard, cooled, or sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

Cape Cod Codfish.—Soak one pound of codfish in cold water to freshen. Boil one minute in fresh water and drain. Boil and mash a few potatoes and mix with the codfish. Heap on a platter and surround with boiled onions and small beets, covered with a rich white sauce.

Corn Flake Macaroons.—Beat two egg whites until stiff, add one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of shredded coconut, two cupfuls of corn flakes and one-third of a teaspoonful of salt. Flavor with almond and drop by spoonfuls on buttered sheets and bake fifteen minutes in a moderate oven.

Lucullus Sauce.—Beat one-half cupful of heavy cream until stiff, add three tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing, two tablespoonfuls of grated horseradish, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of made mustard, one-half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of cayenne.

There is no friend like an old friend. Who has shared our morning days, No greeting like his welcome, No homage like his praise. —Oliver W. Holmes.

THE UNEXPECTED GUEST.

We frequently read of the capable and systematic housewife who, having an unexpected group of friends drop in, goes to her ice chest or pantry and greets a cold bowl, a bunch of celery, a jar of mayonnaise, which she quickly prepares into a most delectable salad. With rolls, cake, coffee and preserves she sets before her guests a most dainty luncheon.

This reads well, but the simple fact is this preaching isn't sanctioned by practice, for most women in such an emergency do not meet a cold cooked fowl face to face, but a bare cupboard and the necessity of beginning with the flour barrel, rather than a well-stocked larder, to prepare a meal.

Anybody, efficient or otherwise, with a well-stocked pantry might prepare an acceptable meal, but the woman who finds a dish of cold potatoes, flanked by a tough and world-weary steak, and still looks out on life cheerfully, is both an optimist and a genius.

To fortify this optimism an emergency shelf is indispensable. Even where the corner grocery is near or the telephone at hand one cannot always provide for an emergency. Each housekeeper will stock her shelf with the foods, accessories and relishes especially adapted to her needs.

A few cans of fish such as salmon, tuna, sardines and lobster, which may be served hot, cold or in salads or in combination with vegetables as a main dish, cans of corn, beans, peas, cans of soup, olives, pickles, a jar of salad dressing, a bottle of nutmegs, with jelly, jams and a package or two of crackers and a jar of cheese. When any food is used it is replaced at the earliest opportunity, so that the supply will always be full for the chance guest.

Two or three kinds of cookies stored in air-tight jars will keep for a long time. A few cookies with a dish of fruit, a cup of tea or coffee is a dessert which is sufficiently satisfying for the most exacting.

The fortunate ones who live in the country and have plenty of milk, cream, butter and eggs, find it easy to prepare delicious dishes in short order.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

CHANCE FOR MEN AS SCOUTS.

Frequently some men are heard to say: "I wish there had been boy scouts when I was a boy. I'd like to have had their chance of having a real gang and doing the things they do in the outdoors."

No one is too old to be a scout. There are 14,918 men serving as scoutmasters, and 17,203 hold commissions as assistant scoutmasters. For each of the 16,541 troops organized there is a committee of three men whose duty it is to back up the scoutmaster and assist the troop in every possible manner.

There is a crying need for more leaders, as there are thousands of boys waiting to get into troops. If you wish you had been a scout, you can at least lead the boys now to be scouts. It will do you a lot of good yet, and also do the boys a great amount of good.

There is nothing in life so full of genuine satisfaction as to hold the whole-souled admiration of 32 youngsters.

SCOUTS INSPECT PLAYGROUNDS.

An interesting phase of city survey study was the inspection of the vacant lots of Perth Amboy, N. J., by the boy scouts to ascertain the sanitary condition of playgrounds where small children were accustomed to gather after school hours. Three troops of boy scouts made a tour of vacant lots in the business and residential districts to find whether children's games were carried on near dangerous places, such as railroad crossings and street car lines.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

By Mrs. Palmer Rhodes.

It is with a feeling of intense joy and satisfaction that the president and board of directors of the Woman's club, together with a number of loyal members, whose concerted efforts prolonged the life of the club through the war; times when the pulse of the most critical and trying times of club was so low that its faint throbs were barely discernable in the consciousness of the community, it is with joy, I say, that the quickening and awakening spirit is sensed, as it now most assuredly is, not only in the renewed interest of its old members but in an additional membership of approximately one hundred per cent.

Each club day the club rooms are thronged with an enthusiastic body of women, eager to take advantage of the worth while musical or literary entertainment, which they are confident will be presented at each program, and their confidence is never misplaced. Under the able direction of Mrs. Frank Hart of the Villa and Mrs. S. P. Sperry, the programs presented have been secured as the result of considerable effort and money and with the idea in mind of keeping their standard up to excellency. It is indeed a privilege to visit this artistic club home upon the improvement of which the directors have this season expended about $500, and feel that you are one of a body of women sufficiently progressive to foster an organization of this class.

The club has this season given its members the splendid opportunity of membership in its dramatic section, with Mrs. Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith as curator. Mrs. Goldsmith's reputation in this line of activity is the best, and aside from every other advantage, makes membership in the club indeed worth while. The influx of tourists into Southern California has brought its share of increased population into our beautiful little city, and numbers of these newcomers have shown a decided interest in the club and have expressed a desire to become members thereof. Among the names which have been added to the membership since October, 1919, are:

Mrs. Harold Allen, Mrs. Joe Bergin, Ella S. Bush, Mrs. W. H. Butts, Mrs. Emeline Clark, Mrs. Carl Graf, Mrs. Rudolph Hartman, Mrs. L. N. Howard, Mrs. H. R. Hinton, Mrs. S. M. Kericope, Miss Clara Jarjar, Mrs. O. S. Lockhart, Mrs. Brenda Harris Loggins, Mrs. W. J. Miller, Mrs. Beulah Moore, Mrs. S. R. Norris, Mrs. E. C. Newton, Mrs. F. Roess, Mrs. M. A. Rigney, Mrs. Preston Schwartz, Mrs. J. D. Sparks, Mrs. F. L. Sadlier, Mrs. Milton Steinberger, Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Mrs. Caroline Wood, Miss Jean Woodward, Miss Minna Wolf, Mrs. E. W. Camp.

Temporary members: Mrs. Wischusen, Mrs. E. A. Wise, Mrs. Walter Morrison, Mrs. James Rapin, Mrs. Boardman, Mrs. W. M. Gray.

Club Program

The social meeting of the club on Monday proved to be all and more than was anticipated. The speaker, Mrs. Henrietta Kapp of Los Angeles, appeared before the club with her subject, "Interior Decorating," which might have been decidedly uninteresting but which was, from the very introduction, an intensely interesting series of beautiful ideas, objectified by the speaker, with the grace and charm of a true lover of harmony and presented with the quiet assurance of one who is thoroughly conversant with her subject.

Mrs. Kapp seems to have the happy faculty of seeing the beautiful in all things, and more than once startled her hearers by disclosing beauty in objects which to them had always seemed commonplace. The pleasure of those present extended most materially into the social hour, as was evidenced by the pleasant hum of many voices in social chat, and on air of hospitality and at-oneness pervaded the entire atmosphere. Mrs. Palmer Rhodes and Mrs. H. T. Bassett, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Ingraham and Mrs. W. J. Miller, graciously served as hostesses, passing out good cheer with the comforting teacups.

Leap Year Ball

The leap year ball given on last Friday evening under the capable direction of the club board, was one of the most successful affairs of the social season. The club rooms were thronged with merry parties of our own young people, and may from Pasadena and Los Angeles. The music, as always, was excellent, making it impossible to remain sitting long.

Complimentary to St. Patrick's day each guest was presented with a green cap, and the "wearing of the green," made the scene indeed a festive one. The same color was effectively used in the decorations and refreshments. In the lucky-spot dances prizes were awarded to Ivan Buie and a young man from Pasadena.

The young folks seemed to enjoy the reversal of all conventions, which was due to the fact of it being a leap year affair, and entered into the spirit of the evening with the real enthusiasm which assured its success.

Dance Tonight

This evening, Friday, March 26, the dance which was scheduled for April 2 will be given, at the club house.

This change has been made in consideration of the fact that next Friday will be observed as Good Friday, and those who have the club amusements in charge do not wish to further any project which might interfere with this observance.

Recital

On Monday evening, April 12, Sierra Madre, through the Woman's club, is to enjoy one of the most attractive musical programs that has ever been presented here. Kathleen Lockhart Manning of Riverside, formerly of this city, has consented to appear in recital with Miss Marjory Hicks as assisting artist. Mrs. Manning's reputation as a singer needs no bolstering by the writer, and the music lovers here, in her home city, know that Kathleen Lockhart Manning's name on a program insures its success. Having studied for years in Paris, where she was a member of the grand opera company, Mrs. Manning's voice shows a completeness and a finished perfection which, with her natural beauty and charm of manner, give an added distinction to her programs. It will be the privilege of the club members to have complimentary seats at this function, and tickets may be purchased by those less fortunate, at the cost of $1.00 each.

A large number of Sierra Madre's social set will act as patronesses and numbers of private dinner parties are being planned, for that date, with guests from Pasadena, Los Angeles and other nearby cities. A list of the names of the patronesses will be published in next week's issue of The News.

Men's Club Meeting

The Men's club dinner and meeting was attended by about fifty, Thursday evening of last week, which is very gratifying to the officers of this new organization. After the splendid dinner, served by the Ladies Aid society, the speaker of the evening, Dr. W. E. Daniels of Long Beach, delighted his audience with an interesting as well as forceful talk on "The Holy Land."

Dr. Daniels, who has more than a local reputation as a world traveler and lecturer, related his personal experiences and observations during his visit to the Holy land. His interesting and instructive talk was interspersed with humorous incidents that kept his hearers alert and good natured.

ASTHMA

If you can afford to pay $1,000 for a permanent cure, you can be cured first and pay when you are quite sure you are permanently cured. No medicine. This is the only method ever discovered to permanently cure chronic asthma and has never failed. Asthma is not a disease or doctors would have found a remedy long ago.
